Poetry.

The Song of Labor.

BY JAMES MAURICE THOMPSON.

The song of labor, note by note,
All men must learn it and be free;
The flag of labor, it must float
From every mast on Life's great sea!
Who hath not heard the quarry ring
With song while many an ashlar lay
Unhewn, at labor's touch to spring
Into immortal shape some day?

The dreams of ease are clouds that lie
On mountain peaks where none can stand;
Toil's golden fruit is ripening by
The sweet streams of the Promised Land.
The sower reaps—no hand may stay
The seasons. In God's wise decrees
Toil is the central thought, and may Seem hard to those who long for ease.

The world is moving, life expands—
Action, endeavor, hope in toil
Are making even desert sands
Yellow with corn and fat with oil!
Labor! the granite hills are less
Enduring than the blessed name
Of those unfaltering braves who press
Through toil's thorn barriers to fame!

The poet is not born, but made—
Through fire is drawn the noblest song
He wields in fight the deadliest blade
Whose thews, from constant drill, are strong.
Sigh not for genius: strike and win;
Battle with Fate for good or ill:
The gifted sot had better been
A dullard with an iron will!

This is my prophecy and prayer—
Toil's glorious kingdom is at hand,
Its blooms are rich, its fruits are fair,
Ripening to fall in every land;
The leaf is turning—we shall see
The record on Time's brightest page,
And swarthy Toil is yet to be
The usher of the Golden Age!

Selected Story.

Rose Cady's Triumph.

"Then you are determined to disobey me, Rose?"

"Yes. Since you command me to do something which is unjust, and which will make my life miserable. I consider myself under no obligation to obey such commands—even from my father!"

"Undutiful, disobedient child!" said Colonel Cady, in a rage. "If you will not treat me as your father, I will not treat you as my child. Obey me, or leave the house! Chose between the two immediately!"

"I would choose anything rather than marry that man, even death. I believe he is a scoundrel and libertine!"

"There is no use in prolonging the conversation. You have chosen your path, and henceforth you are no child of mine; and in my house I will not hear the honorable name of Jackson Garner insulted by any one."

Colonel Cady was pacing the room and flourishing his cane menacingly towards his daughter.

"I am ready to go at any moment when you will give some money," answered Rose, looking up very calmly.

"I tell you, your are no child of mine!" screamed the Colonel; "and not a penny of my money shall you have. You have chosen your own way, and you may go on in it, but wholly independent of me!"

"Very well," said Rose, rising. "You will kiss me good-bye, though, father. You know, we may never meet again."

"Impudent coolness!" exclaimed the Colonel, stamping his foot and flourishing his cane over the head of his daughter.

"Leave my presence immediately!"

"Very well," said Rose, going toward the door. She turned about, with her hand on the door knob, "Who will you get to bathe your head when it aches, read to you when you are tired, stay with you night and day when you are sick with the rheumatism?"

"You saucy, disobedient child!" said the Colonel, rushing towards her with his cane upraised, as if he meant to strike her to the floor. "Don't dare to say another word. Leave this room and this house immediately!"

"Yes, sir," said Rose, with a mock courtesy; and, dodging the cane, she fled from the room out into the kitchen.

Hester, the housekeeper, was there ironing.

"How terribly hot it is in here!" said Rose. "Come out in the porch; I want to tell you something."

Hester never refused Rose anything. She put down her flat-irons, and followed her out into the clean porch, shaded with morning glorious.

"Well, now, if that ain't the meanest thing!" said Hester, after Rose had told her about the interview she had just had with her father. "Why, child, what on earth can you do? You ain't no more fit to airn your livin' than a baby. I shall go with you if you must go off. Why, I couldn't trust you out of my sight, child."

"No," said Rose, "I couldn't have you leave papa, anyhow, Hester. He needs you more than I do."

"You think more of him than he does of you, Rose. Perhaps, now, he'll get over his pet in a little while. Don't hurry right off; wait a little while, and see if he don't feel sorry for treatin you so. He thinks as much of ye as he does of his eyes when he ain't mad."

"Well, but he told me to leave the house immediately, you know, Hester; and so, of course, I can't stay here to wait for him to relent."

"Oh, dear," groaned Hester, "what can you do?—what will you do?"

"Stay up in the garret," said Rose in a whisper, and looking cautiously around her.

"That's just it," said Hester. "You are mighty shrewed Rose. You take all of your things, and move up in the garret, and I'll carry your victuals to you; and nobody but you and me will know a breath about it."

After a little more whispered talk, Rose went to her room, took such things as she would be likely to take were she to leave the house, and carried them up to the garret. She wrote a very pretty little letter to her unrelenting father, and left it on her dressing table.

In the meantime Hester had been at work in the garret sweeping, dusting, and trying to make it a pleasant home for poor little Rose, as she called Colonel Cady's spirited daughter. She put down some strips of carpeting, and carried up a great arm-chair, a table, and writing desk; and the room looked really inviting and pleasant when Rose entered it a prisoner.

"I think I can endure to stay here as long as papa can get on without me," said Rose, in a satisfactory tone, seating herself in the great arm chair, and putting her feet on the footstool near her. "This is a lovely view out of the window. Now if I were only an artist, or poetess, or even a novel writer, I could have a fine time up here; but I am none of these, so I will embroider father some slippers, to present to him when he gets over his pet. Now, I'm sure he had no idea of my going away; but he is so impulsive. I think it time he learned a lesson on the subject."

And with her mind overflowing with such thoughts, Rose Cady leaned back in her cushioned chair, and gazed out on the beautiful landscape.

"I wish I had some money of my own," she soliloquized. "It was so strange that Grandfather Gordon's will was lost. I have heard say he willed to my mother an immense fortune, but the will was lost, and the one made a number of years before that, when my Grandfather was angry with her, was executed, and the money all went to some charitable institution. Mamma knew there was a later will—she saw it, and if I could only find it I'm sure papa would have no desire for me to marry Jackson Garner. He thinks it would all be for my good to marry this old man, since he has lost so much of his property of late; but I had rather live on bread and water than to do it; I would work my fingers off first!"

She sat there until the twilight came stealing on, and a feeling of sadness stole over her.

"I do wish Hester would come up," she said, half aloud.

But she had no more than uttered the words when she heard a light, cautious step on the stairs, and in a moment Hester appeared, bearing a tray of tempting food.

"It's rather late for your supper, child," she said, setting the tray on the table; "but your father has been askin' me so many questions, I couldn't get away sooner, and I'm 'fraid I've told him some things that ain't exactly true. I had to quibblecate, but I tried to keep truth on my side."

"Has he got my letter?" asked Rose anxiously.

"La, yes, at supper time when you didn't come down he begun to look oneasy; finerly he looked at me sideways, and said, 'Where's Rose? isn't she coming down to tea?' I looked as unconscious as I could. 'Why, you turned her out-doors,' I said, 'and she took you at your word.' I thought he grew a little pale, but he began to storm like he generally does, knocked a plate from the table, and stepped on the cat, and stirred things up generally. 'She's a little fool,' he said; 'but let her go. A child who won't obey me is no child of mine.' 'She left you a note,' I said. He told me to go get it, and I did. He read it through, and then tore it in pieces and stamped them under his feet. He didn't eat a mouthful of supper, and he asked me all manner of questions, to see if I knowed anything where you had gone; but of course I didn't know nothin' about it; and so he stormed into the parlor, where Jackson Garner was waitin' for him."

"Then he's here? I'd much rather be in the garret than in his presence," said Rose.

Rose retired very early that night, and was soon asleep on the little white bed in one corner of the garret, while her father was walking his room in great anxiety and sorrow. He had told Jackson Garner of her refusal to marry him, and her flight from the house; and the rich old scoundrel comforted him by saying she would soon be back, that she only wanted to be a little contrary, it was the nature of all women; still Colonel Cady felt uneasy and disturbed.

"Where could the little girl be that night?" he said to himself, as he paced his room back and farth.

He slept very little that night, but the next day tried to appear as unconcerned and unrelenting as possible.

Rose awoke in the morning refreshed, but the day seemed very long and tedious. She read, embroidered, and gazed out at the window, but couldn't sing for fear she should be heard. That was a great trial. Hester stayed with her very little; she dared do nothing to attract the attention of the colonel. Towards sunset, lonesome and uneasy, she went to a pondorous chest of old yellow papers which had belonged to her grandfather, and lifted back the heavy cover.

"Who knows?" said she. "Perhaps grandfather's last will was lost among these papers. I will look them all over and see."

She sat down on the floor and commenced pulling them out on her lap: She looked at them one by one until it was so dark she could not distinguish the letters; then she went back to the window. In the morning she recommenced the search, and continued it nearly the whole day, but with no success.

That night, when every one in the house had retired, she robed herself in a white dress, and combed her long hair out, letting it fall loose about her shoulders.

"Every one is so afraid of ghosts about here," she reasoned, "that if I am seen no one will stop long enough to see who I am."

The stole cautiously down the stairs, and out into the beautiful starry night.

She wore no crinoline, and as she glided along under the maple-tree, she did seem like a spirit, and the first sight of her would have startled the stoutest heart. It was nearly midnight, and as she stood among the roses in the garden, and pressed their dewy petals to her lips, a desire to sing took possession of her, and so she commenced a low warbling tune as she bent over the roses.

She had sang but a few moments, when she heard a window being opened, and looking up, saw that it was the window of her father's room. She ceased singing immediately, and glided along under the maples until the house was lost from her sight. She crouched low in the shrubbery until the window was once more closed, and all was still, then she went back to the house again, and stealthily stole up to the garret.

The next day she continued her search among the old papers but night found her still unsuccessful. At midnight again she stole out into the garden, and this time a neighbor passing home late caught a glimpse of her, and fled in terror, supposing she was a ghost.

For several nights—more than a week—she made her midnight visits to the garden, until there was a story circulating through the town that the premises of Colonel Cady were haunted. The old man was a little superstitious, as he had seen the white robed figure once, and heard its low, and it seemed to him, unearthly voice, he began to believe himself that his premises were haunted, and secretly he believed it was a judgment sent upon him for driving his daughter from his door.

The low voice and long hair reminded him of his wife, who had long been in heaven.

Perhaps her spirit could not rest while her child was a wanderea from her home. The old man was in great trouble; he had thoroughly repented the hasty step he had taken, and he commenced a hasty search for his daughter. Meanwhile Rose had been searching every day for the will, but she at length had taken the last paper from the old chest, and a little disappointed, she threw all the old yellow papers back again, and was about to close the lid upon them, when, holding the cover a little carelessly in her small hands, it fell, making an enormous noise, and shutting a large portion of her dress in with the papers.

She raised it, a little frightened lest the noise had been heard, when, to her astonishment, she saw that from the inside of the cover there had fallen a thin lid, and a package, old and yellow, had fallen with it.

Almost sure it was the lost will, she caught it eagerly and opened it, found it to be as she expected, and she was an heiress to great wealth.

"I'll remain in this prison no longer," she said, delightedly: and with the will in her hand she rushed down to the parlor, where she found her father, looking pale and dejected.

He looked at her a moment in bewilderment, then caught her to his breast, and almost smothered her with kisses.

"My poor child," he said, "Jackson Garner never will trouble you again. Can you ever forgive me? I have suffered a world of distress!"

All was forgiven, and when the Colonel saw the will, which he had long ago given up all hope of ever seeing, he flourished Rose about the room, acting like a delighted child.

"You are a shrewd little girl," he said, "to he under your father's roof all this time, while the neighbors thought you a ghost, and I was seuding men all about the country to find you. I think I can risk you anywhere, and I will tell George Snow that I will give you to him, in spite of his being poor, when I give you to anybody."

Rose blushed, and in after-years when she was the wife of George Snow, and her old father dandled her children on his knee, he delighted in telling them of their mother's hiding in the garret, and how he repented his hasty words.

Remarkable Prediction by Mr. Greeley.

In an article on "The Crystal Palace and its Lessons," written by Horace Greeley for Graham's Magazine; and published in May, 1852, nineteen years ago, he distinctly predicted three great achievements of American genius and enterprise, to be accomplished within the century, all of which have been fulfilled to the letter. The passage is as follows:

"We Americans of the nineteenth century will be found in due time to have inscribed ourselves most legibly on the earth's unfading records * * * A railroad over the Rocky Mountains, a telegraph across the Atlantic; a towering observatory, wherein all the storms and calms, at any moment prevailing within the earth's atmosphere, shall be portrayed on a common dial-plate, and the storms which shall take place at any point during the next day or week, with their several directions and intensities."

The Corean Affair—A Canadian View.

In his presumptuous letter to United States Admiral Rodgers, the King of Corea assumed it to be a dead certainty that his kingdom was going to remain hermetically sealed against the world. Probably he has seen its last days of strict seclusion. The lesson he received from the American fleet was only the beginning of his education on that point. Henceforth couriers will be continually running to his Majesty with the unwelcome news that foreign sails are cruising up and down his coast, and that the hated foreigners themselves are stalking to and fro on the beach inspecting his forts, sounding his channels, and holding more or less conversation with his fisherman. He will hear that if any foreign seamen get shipwrecked others will be sure to come to inquire after them. If any are murdered or maltreated, he will again and speedily hear the echoes of the ship's cannon mowing down the ranks of his cotton-armored gingall bearers.

The Petersburg (Va.) Progress, a Democratic journal, has the following on the Hon. A. H. Stephens: "If the flood had occurred in the time of Mr. Alexander H. Stephens, we verily believe that during the 39 days' rain he would have been seen astride of the ridge-pole of The Atlanta Sun office, holding a faded umbrella over his head, drawing up his diminutive legs to keep them out of the surrounding surges, and calmly inditing a ten-column editorial to the people of the late Confederacy, to prove that the shower was null and void, and the flood a matter to be resisted at the ballot-box; and no doubt people would have been found in Georgia who would have stigmatized Noah's as a 'new departure,' and have hazarded both life and soul on the faded umbrella and ponderous editorial of poor little Mr. Stephens."

It is revived of Vallandigham that after the arrest of John Brown he posted straightway to Harper's Ferry to gain from him a statement that would serve to fasten his attempt on a large party. It was to him that Brown said, "No man sent me here; it was my own promptings and that of my Maker. I acknowledge no master in human form. I want you to understand, gentlemen, that I respect the rights of the poorest and weakest of the colored people, oppressed by the slave system, just as much as I do those of the wealthy and powerful. That is the idea that has moved me, and that alone." Vallandigham went home, and bore this testimony of Brown while the world railed at him: "He is the farthest possible removed from the ordinary ruffian, fanatic, or madman; he has coolness, daring, persistency, the stoic faith and patience, and a firmness of will and purpose unconquerable."

Linen can be converted into sugar; sugar into alcohol and carbonic acid; alcohol into ether and water. Sugar can also be converted into oxalic acid, and likewise into pure charcoal and water. Alcohol will readily change into acetic acid, or vinegar. Coal-tar is transformed into dyes that surpass the Tyrian purple of old. Starch may be transmuted into gum, alcohol, sugar, vinegar, or oxalic acid; and these are but a few of the magical changes which modern chemical science has made familiar as household words.

Correspondence.

DOUBLE SHOALS, N. C., Aug., 15, 1871.

To His Excellency,

GOV. TOD. R. CALDWELL:

My Dear old friend:—I want to write you a few lines on the condition of our country. Our county for several miles around, more particularly West of me, is desolate. A great many men, and I am fully persuaded, very many of them innocent, have been sworn to as belonging to raiding parties by unreliable persons. They have been informed of these things and have left their families; their farms of grain being destroyed. A reliable man told me this morning that he saw some eight or ten plantations with stock turned in and destroying the grain, the owners having left the country. Such families will suffer if something is not done.

There are unreliable parties who are and have been ready witnesses against others, and they have caused a great deal of trouble.

Now I am and have been always for peace; but it seems that we are in worse trouble now than ever. I have used all my influence in the direction of peace and harmony, while I was in the office of Sheriff, and also since I have been disfranchised from holding office.

Now Governor, if it is in your power in any way to devise some method by which some settlement of this difficulty may be brought about, it is to be hoped that you will do so in some speedy way.

It looks to me now like this country is ruined. It is true there is one class of men that I do not pity—that is—those men who have been guilty of illicit distilling and unlawful trafficing in spirituous liquors. They have been warned of the danger. Also those men who have been guilty of committing raids upon others contrary to law.

I am fully persuaded, or at least of the opinion that there are hundreds of men belonging to the so-called Ku-Klux party, who never have been guilty of committing any depredations whatever; not that I know, but judging from outside appearances.

I would be very glad indeed, to have a line from your hand, if you think I am worthy of notice.

I remain as ever, Your friend,

J. Z. FALLS.

N. B. I have been requested to write on the above subject by many good citizens. I hope you will appreciate it as such.

J. Z. F.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug., 21, 1871.

J. Z. FALLS, Esq., Cleveland County

Dear Sir: Your favor of the 15th inst, has been received, and I have given it a full and thorough consideration. I must confess frankly that I do not like the tone of your letter. It appears to me to be an apology for the Ku Klux Klan, who are known to infest several of the Western counties, and particularly the county of Cleaveland. All persons who show a disposition to expose and bring these marauders to the bar of justice, are denounced as irresponsible and unworthy of credit and belief, no matter how fair a reputation they may have heretofore sustained. While they remained true to the Klan, they were in the estimation of their associates and sympathizers, good and deserving men, and worthy of confidence; but so soon as they, moved by the better feelings of humanity, turn from their lawlessness and show a disposition to atone for crimes commited by them, then they are turned upon by their former allies and accused of being low, mean fellows, totally unworthy of belief, and that no confidence should be reposed in any evidence they may give against those with whom they had heretofore associated. Another thing that strikes me as something very remarkable, is the fact that many of the men, whom you style innocent men are running away from their homes to evade arrest. This thing of flight is not in my opinion, compatible with innocence, but on the contrary, is a strong badge of guilt. Nothing is more true than the old proverb, that "the guilty flee when no man pursueth." You seem to think it terrible that these men, accused of crime, should be driven from their homes, and that for the want of their presence, their crops are exposed to destruction and their families to suffering. Who have they to blame for this state of affairs but themselves? Were they not appealed to time and again to cease their cruel lawlessness and demean themselves as good citizens? They turned a deaf ear to all such appeals; they would pursue their evil ways, and give loose rein to their devilish wickedness, and now when the meshes of the law are about to circumvent them, their friends, persons too, who I fear were in their confidence and giving them a moral support, are coming to their aid endeavoring to succor them by traducing the character, not only of their victims, but of their confederates also, who are turning State's evidence against them. I heard no word of remonstrance from Cleveland county while the Ku Klux were inflicting their hellish punishments upon the weak and unprotected; but as soon as the scale begins to turn and the strong arm of Government is stretched out in behalf of those who could not protect themselves, then, the whole community wakes up to the importance of restoring peace and quiet in the land. I am as much for peace and harmony as any man in the State could be; every act of my short administration goes to prove that fact: but at the same time, I am not willing to purchase peace from violators of the law by a surrender of the liberties and sacred privileges of the humbler class of my fellow-citizens, whose only safety in these degenerate days is to be found in a strict enforcement of the law.

The only advice that I can give you is that you and other leading citizens of Cleveland county shall cease apologizing for crime; be open and bold in your denunciations of lawlessness, whenever and by whomsoever committed, and to treat the humblest citizens of your country with the same consideration and respect that you would claim for yourselves from them were your positions in life reversed.

I am, sir, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

TOD R. CALDWELL,

Governor.

An aged lady in North Adams relates that many years ago, while attending a social gathering, a young mechanic asked her hand for one of the dances. She indignantly refused, feeling very much mortified that he should make such an offer. Years have passed, and she has filled an honorable but humble position in life, while the young man whom she then scorned has been Governor of Massachusetts.

I have noticed during a ministry that has extended through half of my life time, and chiefly among the poor, that those people in the humbler walks of life, whose natural promptings have led them to whitewash their cottages, and train the jessamine and morning-glory by the door, or plant the marigold in the yard during the pleasant Summer months, are not generally the persons to whom my deacons have had to carry coal and potatoes in Winter.—Gardeners' Monthly.

The observers of singular coincidences will be interested in the following: The last survivor of the signers of the Declaration of Independence was Charles Carrol, of Maryland; the last widow of a signer was Mrs. Hannah K. Chase, widow of Judge Samuel Chase, who died in 1848, also of Maryland; and now the last surviving child of a signer is a native of Maryland. She is the venerable Mrs. Mary Chase Barney, daughter of the last mentioned, now eighty-eight years old, and so postrated by paralysis that she is not expected to survive long.

Some negroes that had mastered the Irish brogue played a trick upon a boat-load of immigrants, who were so eager to set foot on the soil of the new World that they had left the ship before their companions. "An' are ye just over, boys?" said a jet black African, in the richest possible brogue and with the warmest interest, as he bent over the wharf, where he and his comrades were working. The strangers regarded him with a look of mingled astonishment and terror, while one of them found breath to inquire: "An' how is it that ye're black?" "It's the climate, boys; it's all in the climate," was the answer. "Ah, how long did it thake," said the anxious spokeman, "to make ye this color?" "Three years, an' niver a bit longer." "Thin, boys, lets go back: it's too soon to be devils entirely."

Mr. Thomas Gill, a veteran newspaper reporter who died in Boston a week or two ago, in his lifetime was very fond of a joke and possessed a keen sense of humor. The Washington Chronicle gives an amusing instance of his drollery. The Hon. Robert Rantoul, jr., was delivering to an immense audience an oration at a celebration on Bunker Hill, in the course of which he described with great pathos and effect the famous battle which occurred on the very spot on which they were assembled. As he resumed his seat, Gill, who was seated near him, carelessly remarked, "My father was in that battle." Rantoul immediately sprang to his feet and announced this fact, whereupon there were vehement calls from the crowd for the son of the revolutionary hero. Mr. Gill modestly rose, and after acknowledging vociferous cheers which greeted quietly informed his hearers that it was true that his father was at Bunker Hill, but—he was fighting on the other side!" The scene that followed "beggared description." Mr. Gill was an Englishman by birth, and one of the first professional reporters who came to America.

A FEW FACTS AND FIGURES.

The people of this part of Eastern North Carolina have much yet to learn. They are kept poor, embarrassed and pushed for money because they send it all away to purchase what ought to be raised and manufactured right here at home. For instance, they send North each year from the Counties east of the Chowan river not less than $20,000 for seeds. They send at least $30,000 more for agricultural implements and tools. They pay from $10,000 to $20,000 yearly for wooden wares, when there are millions of feet of Cedar timber here going to decay. They further pay as much more for castings that ought to be made here. They send abroad for Woolen goods costing yearly not less than $50,000, and for Cottons at least $60,000, and for Boots and Shoes about $60,000 more, all of which should be produced and made at home.

And all these things could be manufactured here. Suppose this were done, and the Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars we send abroad every year kept at home and circulated among ourselves, how it would improve and change every department of business.

People of Eastern North Carolina! You must turn over a new leaf and resolutely take a "new departure." You must encourage manufactories. The grain, the timber, the cotton—all these must be manufactured at home where they are grown. As manufactories are fostered and built up population increases, and with that increase follows a good home market to the farmer for his grain, his vegetables, his butter, cheese, beef and pork. Each class—the farmer, the mechanic and the laboring man—will be benefited, every interest will be advanced and the prosperity we all so much desire will be realized.

COME SOUTH.

There is no question but that immigration can and will do for the South what it has accomplished for the West. The climate here is more mild and genial: the health is quite as good; the soil is naturally as rich and fertile, and the land is a great deal cheaper. Heretofore the system of labor repelled immigration to the South. The antagonism between voluntary and forced labor was such that the former would not go where the latter prevailed. Slave labor was the enemy of enterprize, dwarfed inventive genius and discouraged manufactures. It did not furnish a soil genial to development or progress. The result was that the industry, the enterprize and the skill of the nation migrated Westward where they could expand and grow; and see what gigantic strides the West has taken on the high road to prosperity.

Now that the barriers are removed from the South and the door is opened for Northern industry, capital and skill, this country will not much longer remain the sluggish laggard in the race for wealth and material progress she has so long been. Here are more inviting fields for the industrious farmer and the skilled artisan than in the West, and, too, the capitalist will find better opportunities for the profitable investment of his money. Let them be encouraged to come. Let them feel that they will be well received, and that they will be as well treated and fully protected in every right belonging to an American citizen as anywhere under the broad folds of the country's flag.

As this is understood immigration will rapidly turn this way. When it does the South will far outstrip the West in all that makes a country rich and prosperous and great. And that day is not as far off as croakers and old fogies would have us believe.

DEMORALIZED, DIVIDED AND DISHEARTENED.

The observant Democrat as he looks over the national field fails to see any indication to cheer him. The truth is, he sees the party hopelessly demoralized and alarmingly divided, which facts tend to dishearten him. In Pennsylvania he sees the two factions, the one led by Ex-Senator BUCKALEW and the other by the would be Senator WALLACE at dagger's points. In Ohio the much vaunted New Departure has chilled the ardor of the working men of the party and the candidate for Governor met with such a cold reception that his friends were obliged to withdraw him from the canvas. In Wisconsin the leaders were in such desperation that for a standard bearer they selected the played out Johnsonized Republican JAMES R. DOOLITTLE! When such men are siezed upon as the only available material for the purpose of conducting a campaign, is it any wonder that honest Democrats should feel disgusted and discouraged?

The Democracy of Deleware received a severe rebuke in the election at Wilmington, the largest city in the State, the other day. Last year the Democrats carried the city by six hundred majority. This year the Republicans carry it by near four hundred.

RATIONAL FARMING.

We sometimes hear the question asked—What is rational farming? We answer that according to the general idea, true rational farming is to make the cultivated land pay. Literally, the object is gain. With this fact before us, what is the course to be pursued by the farmer? Undoubtedly his place is to secure the largest amount of paying produce at the smallest cost, and thus realize the greatest possible profit.

In the discussion of this question a cotemporary very correctly reminds us that while looking at the subject from this stand point, another looms up which it will not do to disregard. If it be rational farming to secure the largest results in the shape of profits from the acres cultivated, it must be borne in mind that this is to be accomplished without permanently lessening the fertility of the soil. Any system that will fulfill these conditions may be at once set down as the correct one, for the reason that the fertility contained in the farmer's soil is his capital.

Such being the case, it stands to reason that when he sells his crop he disposes of part of his capital. Now if he does not return to the land, in the shape of manures, the fertilizing elements abstracted by the crops sold, it becomes permanently so much poorer, and instead of living on the profits of his labor or the interest of his capital, he is really devouring his capital. It needs but little argument to convince any reasoning man, that such a course is not merely erroneous, but absolutely and permanently injurious, if persisted in.

Year by year the capital originally contained in the soil in the shape of fertility is diminished. His crops diminish, and of course his profits share the same fate. He not only receives less interest for the capital invested in the soil, but for the capital also employed, to work it. He may, it is true, when his farm is in its virgin freshness, make money for a few years by the "skinning" process, but such profits cannot be regulated as legitimate for the reason, because he has simply been abstracting a part of his capital from his soil and putting it to other uses.—In a few years his land becomes so exhausted that he cannot cultivate it except at a loss, or at best without any profit, and then comes up the question whether the new investment pays better than the original one.

The opposite or rational course is a very simple one. It is to restore to the lands in the shape of manures the elements of fertility abstracted by the crops sold. By this means he retains his capital in the soil unimpaired, and with it the assurance that banks may break and capitalists fail, but his investment remains firm and sound forever. His interest in this soil bank will not only be undiminished, but that employed in working it also.

But says some close-fisted, or "penny wise and pound foolish" farmer, will this rational system pay? If it does not, then abandon it, and adopt the irrational one. It will require but a few years to demonstrate the fact that "the spoilation of land leads to poverty."—If land is to be cultivated for profit it must be done on this rational system, or none. In the words of one who has written ably upon this subject, and whose ripe experience eminently fitted him for the task—"Whatever system is adopted, it must be based upon the laws of restitution and rotation."

As already announced the Republicans of North Cacolina have achieved a decided victory and we learn that the leaders of the party in that State attribute much to the aid and influence exerted by the NORTH CAROLINIAN edited and published by our old friend, Dr. JOHN former editor of the Republican. We also learn that his paper has taken a front rank among the journals of the "old North State." The Doctor has only done what we felt sure he would accomplish by the work he did in this State.

His energy and ability will not soon be forgotten. One of the most successful journalists in this State we are glad to see that he has thoroughly identified himself with the State of his adoption.

A year ago he was urged to become a candidate for Congress and in his district a nomination is equivalent to an election, but he declined, and again this year he was asked to accept the nomination for delegate to Convention, which he again declined, prefering the "chair editorial." From the evidence of appreciation, we predict that the people of his district will not long consent to his remaining in private life.—Bloomsburg (Pa.) Republican.

The editor of the Republican will accept our thanks for his generous allusion to us and our humble efforts to advance the interests of the State we have selected as our home. As for the influence exerted in the late important canvas, be it little or much, we simply did our duty as a good citizen and a faithful journalist.

We would have proven recreant to every impulse of our nature had we done otherwise. And as for office we have no aspirations in that direction. We are not an office seeker—we did not come here for any such purpose. Thoroughly in earnest in our efforts to develop all the boundless resources of this District and promote the best interest of its people, and believing we can best serve them in the "chair editorial," we will not consent to leave it until convinced that we can better accomplish these great objects in some other capacity.

PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRACY.

A recent Democratic county Convention at Canton, Mississippi, adopted a resolution that one-half the offices should be given to colored men, and that the meeting should adjourn until September 7th to afford the colored people time to consult together and determine upon the names of candidates they would present for nominations at the reassembling of the Convention.—Wilmington Star.

How about the "white man's party" for which the Democracy have struggled so long? Let us hear no more about the Republican being a "negro party." Here in Pasquotank, a year ago, they nominated and voted for a negro; in Virginia the other day they gave him a front seat in thir State Convention, and in Mississippi they are offering to give his race "one half the offices." Evidently the Democracy are coming down a peg from their lofty ideas of white superiority. The secret is—they are after the colored vote!

VIRGINIA DEMOCRACY.

The Virginia Democrats, or "Conservatives" as they falsely call themselves to throw dust into the eyes of Old line Whigs, held a State Convention the other day. They met with a flood of enthusiasm, but on getting together and comparing notes it was found that they were so hopelessly divided on every local question in which the people are interested that they did not dare to attempt any platform lest the dangerous experiment should result in a disastrous rupture. A party is in a sad plight indeed when it is afraid to speak out. Some of the delegates, belonging to the Old Bourbon school of politics, were specially anxious to be formed into a "phalaux of white men" to oppose all heresies in color, but the "policy men" carried their point over them, having bought up six colored men in Richmond and had them admitted as delegates! Pertinently observes the Tribune:

That this should be done in a Democratic Convention is marvelous, but that it should in Old Virginia is a thing incredible. Now, then, what becomes of all the fine-spun "Conservative" theories about the idiotic crookedness of the African's tibia, the ignobleness of his cranium, and other damning evidences of his social and political debasement?

Is it any wonder that the old Virginia politicians of the war-horse order, like JUBAL EARLY, left the Convention in disgust? And as the party is without any platform, aye, and has embraced the negro, need any one marvel that thousands will leave it with courses?

THE GOLDEN STATE REDEEMED.

The State of California has nobly placed herself in line. She held her election on the 11th and redeemed herself from Democratic misrule by electing a Republican Governor and a Republican Legislature. This secures us a Republican United States Senator. The Democracy had great hopes of holding on to California, but they have been disappointed as badly as they were with Connecticut and North Carolina, and as they will be with some other States yet to hold their elections. The Tribune says:

Election returns from California, different from ordinary bulletins of victory, grow better as they come. We are now assured of the election of all three Congressmen, which is a gain of two; and the Republican majority in the State is now put at five thousand at least. In ten counties Booth is reported to have gained four thousand votes, as compared with the Presidential election in 1868. The victory is undoubtedly complete and inspiring, and is to be considered "the first gun for 1872."

The political prospect in Pennsylvania is very encouraging. The Democratic party finds itself crippled in its resources, and for that reason is weak in its canvas. The plethoric purse of Tammany has been drawn on for the last time. Last year it loaned the Pennsylvania Democracy men and money. And then this year there are ten thousand colored voters, each one of whom are only waiting to revenge himself upon his old enemy—the Democracy. The Republicans will carry the State by a handsome majority.

Elections in the following States will be held this fall.

A new Democratic paper is to be established at Raleigh, to be under the editorial management of Maj. WM. A. HEARNE, late of the Telegram. The Major is a vigorous writer, understands and practices the courtesies of journalism and will furnish those Democrats who are disgusted with the vulgarity and indecency of the Sentinel with a paper they can patronize without any sacrifice of self respect.

The Sentinel comes to this office very irregularly. We do not know that we sustain any loss, as billings gate is not profitable reading. Its editor overestimates his importance and has puffed himself up with the idea that he is a man of more than ordinary ability, when the truth is, he is a case in point where a small amount of brains manures a large area of sterility.

Horace Greeley's forthcoming article in the October Galaxy will be entitled "The One-Term Principle," and will advocate the policy of restricting the presidential office to one term. The peculiar relations of Mr. GREELEY just now to the office in question, and the expressed hopes and ambitions of his friends, give unusual significance to this Galaxy article.

No matter in what direction we look the Democratic prospect is dark and gloomy. The elections this fall, when there was every reason to expect that they would make some partial headway, will all go against them, and leave them discontented and demoralized to enter on the Presidential contest next year.

The September term of the United States Court began at Raleigh on Monday, Judge BOND presiding. This session is thought will be one of the most important ever held in the South as action will be taken on the Ku-Klux cases.

The Pittsburgh Post proposes General George B. McClellan for the Presidency.—Exchange.

Isn't that a post-mortem nomination?

The daughter of a wealthy gentleman in Ireland, who was recently, after the death of her mother, sent to Louisville, Ky., to be educated, has been made insane by home-sickness and grief, and has started on her return home, in charge of a friend.

Europe.

SEPT. 5.—Twelve vessels have been wrecked at Hong Kong by a typhoon, and five vessels at the Bahamas by a hurricane. The anniversary of the downfall of the Empire was celebrated in France yesterday. The National Guard will be disarmed on the 15th inst. Ten persons have been killed, and many injured, by a railroad accident in Northern France. The Cholera is spreading on the continent. King Amadeus is received enthusiastically in his tour through the Spanish provinces.

SEPT. 6.—There was a stormy session in the French Assembly yesterday. The female incendiaries have been sentenced. It was decided at the Gastein Conference that the Roman question would be left to Italy alone. The Fall parades at Aldershot, England, took place yesterday. Commodore Ashbury's yhat has been aground at the Isle of Wight. An extensive "strike" is in progress in Belgium.

SEPT. 7.—A terrible disaster has occurred in England, 69 miners being suffocated in a coal-mine. The Emperors of Germany and Austria have held a conference at Salzburg. The Republican Committee of England have issued their party platform. Queen Victoria is still indisposed. One case of Cholera has occurred in Liverpool. The condemned Communists have appealed to the civil courts. The system of trial by Jury will shortly be introduced in Spain.

SEPT. 7.—A German Steamer has been lost at sea, all on board being drowned. A national Convention will shortly be held in Birmingham to discuss the reorganization of the House of Lords. A Parliamentary candidate has been arrested in Ireland for debt. The cholera is abating at Konigsberg. The French Assembly is discussing the removal of the Capitol to Paris. Prince Napoleon has published a pamphlet addressed to his "calumniators."

SEPT. 9.—The Coal-miners thought to be suffocated in the Wigan (Eng.,) coal mine, were alive yesterday, but there is no hopes of their rescue. The cattle disease is spreading in England. The Salzburg Imperial Conference has terminated. The death of the Grand Vizier is confirmed. The Austrian elections have resulted favorably for the Government.

SEPTEMBER 11.—The deaths at Tabreez, Persia, average 240 per day Negotiations are in progress for a federation of the Central American States. The Germans will evacuate the Paris forts immediately. Renforth, the oarsman, was buried in Newcastle, England, yesterday, 100,000 persons witnessing the funeral. A Carlist rising in Spain has been quelled. A riot is imminent in Rome. There has been an unsuccessful revolution in Peru.

NEW YORY CITY AND THE UNITED STATES STATIONERY ACCOUNT.—It is an instructive and striking fact says the New York Times, that while the New-York Ring has spent for stationery for the county alone, during the past two and a half years, not including law books or blank books, the enormous sum of $850,000, or at the rate of $340,000 per year, the entire expense of all the stationery used by the Treasury Department at Washington, with its 2,200 employes, all faithful workers and no sinecurists, is only $45,000 per year. A rough comparison shows that the entire expense of the Government Printing for Congress, and all the Departments, with its many hundred thousand volumes of reports of all kinds, does not exceed the probable annual expenditure for printing and stationery for the City and County of New-York. The total cost to the present day of the magnificent Treasury building, which is, next to the Capitol, the largest building in the United States, and which is nearly six times the size in superficial area and in capacity of the New York Court-house, is $6,000,000, against $12,000,000 for the latter building, not yet finished.

The Hollenback coal mines, belonging to the Wilkesbarre coal and iron company, situated near Wilkesbarre, caved in with a terrible crash about 8 o'clock on the 2d inst. These mines had been in an unsafe condition for some time, and a few days ago the indications of danger became so decided that the miners concluded to abandon them on Saturday, which they did but a few hours previous to the caving, thereby preventing a horror not second to the late Pittston disaster. A portion of the tools and implements were successfully removed, but a part of the mine collapsed suddenly, filling the yet undisturbed chambers with such a powerful rush of air that boxes, tools, cars, &c., were hurled in all directions, while fortunately, no one was in the mine, and all further attempts at removing them were abandoned. The mass of the mine fell Saturday evening, startling the city, although the occurrence was expected. Six acres of ground fell at once to a depth of nearly 200 feet, presenting a terrible chasm and creating great fissures in the surrounding banks.

DEAD LETTERS.—The report of the Dead Letter Office for August shows that there were returned to that office as undeliverable during that month, 322,279 letters. There were sent to offices from which letters originated, 113,779, and 25,300 were destroyed as non-deliverable and valueless, and 1,439 of which the writers could not be found were filed for future inquiry; 596 letters and packages containing property, were received, of which 470 were returned to the owners. The money division received 2,882 letters, containing $36,310; and 2,218, containing $4,546, were mailed to the owners, and 153, containing $672, were filed; 280 letters, containing $1,411, were returned as unmailable from the offices in which they were deposited, and 1,619 receipts, for an aggregate amount of $3,381, received from the same source.

In reply to a recent letter from Gov. Caldwell, in relation to emigration to the highlands of North Carolina, Hon. George Bancroft says that it will give him the sincerest pleasure to bear his testimony to the beauty and natural fertility and salubrity of that lovely region of country, and the hospitality of its inhabitants. Western North Carolina, he continues, "is the Switzerland of the United States, east of the Mississippi. I have passed through four of its gaps, and I have twice been up or down the valley of the French Broad. I hope it may ere long be filled with as dense, as industrious and as free and happy a population as that of European Switzerland."

A young wife in Detroit, Mich., was discovered, three days after her marriage, to be a victim of kleptomania. She confessed to her husband, what he had never suspected, though he had known her for years, that she could not resist the temptation to steal whatever was before her. Subsequently she disappeared and, it is feared, has committed suicide. She had even stolen many things of not the slightest value to her, such as empty cans and bottles.

The loss in Florida to those engaged in the orange culture is immense. More than three-fourths of the crop is on the ground, and much damege has been done to the groves.

General Summary

The official call has been issued for the Massachusetts Republican State Convention, in Worcester, on Wednesday, Sept. 27.

Vice-President Colfax is in Chicago, looking hale and hearty, and having gained ten pounds in his trip to the West.

Grasshoppers are prematurely chewing all the tobacco in the fields of Connecticut, and thus cutting off the smokers' supply.

A white marble monument to the Confederate dead was dedicated at Charlestown, West Virginia, on Wednesday last. It is twenty feet high, and is placed in a cemetery in which are buried 243 Confederate soldiers.

It is said that there is no church in San Francisco "able to pay a salary to its pastor of more than four thousand dollars per annum, without making such a strain as will finally make it unpleasant for minister and people."

A young couple in Connecticut became acquainted on the 4th of July, were married on the 5th, and last week the husband published an advertisement warning all persons not to trust his wife on his account.

Freeman Schemerhorn, a descendant of the old Knickerbockers, while praying very devoutly at a religious meeting in Schenectady, in this State, breathed his last as he pronounced "Amen." He had often expressed a desire to die under just such circumstances.

The name of Cheyenne is said to be a corruption of Shy Ann. The first lady in the place was Ann——, a retiring, shy creature, but who has since, by the law of Wyoming, become a noted politician. The place was called Shy Ann, but became corrupted to Cheynne.

Geo. L. Mabson, the colored member of the House of Representatives from New Hanover county, and lately admitted to practice law in the courts of the State, has received the appointment of inspector of customs in Wilmington vice Captain Peck removed.

A fortune seeker at the Forest Hill claim, California, abstractedly picked up a grimy lump interfering with his operations, and casually glancing at it, found it to be a solid nugget of gold, which, when tested, weighed 921 ounces, of which 700 are pure gold.

The West has some very eccentric husbands, who prefer their own animal satisfaction to such reflected honor as comes from the beauty of their wives. A resident of Dubuque, Iowa, recently cut off his consort's luxuriant tresses while she was asleep, and sold them for a jug of whisky.

On Saturday night, 26th ult., Yates' Academy, Williams' township, Chatham county, was broken into by a band of thieves and about $100 worth of apparatus and an equal amount in books were carried off, besides considerable damage was done to that portion of the apparatus which was not taken.

Dr. Paul M. Brannan was arrested on the charge of stealing a diamond ring in Quincy, Ill., recently, but was discharged, the prosecution failing to make a case. There were found, however, in his trunk, a large number of letters from married women in different places, which, it is said, will lead to divorces.

The carrying off of children by gypsies sounds more like romantic story than sober fact. Still, we learn from the Illinois papers that W. H. Leib of Quincy has lost his son Freddie, a child of 5 years, in that way, and offers $1,000 for information which will lead to the recovery of the boy, who has been missing since last June.

The Cincinnati Chronicle calls for some one to "give the clue to the present contagion of accident." It notes how disaster has crowded upon disaster with the virulence of a raging epidemic since the Westfield exploded, and says that if we could learn the law we might mitigate its force, or at least avoid putting ourselves in danger.

The Louisville Courier-Journal has moved on the enemy's works in a five-column article exposing and denouncing the ultra persons and factions of the Democratic Party in Kentucky. It is, probably, the beginning of a lively fight which cannot do harm to the country, and may result in good.

Vice-President Colfax was in St. Paul, Minn., a few days ago, and while there reiterated his determination to retire from public life at the close of his present term. He expressed himself explicitly and decidedly for Gen. Grant's renomination, and said he had no doubt at all that he will be re-elected by a larger majority than in 1868.

One of the men engaged in building a railroad bridge in Wisconsin the other day, was compelled by the breaking of a guy to leap from the trestle-work. He struck the sand at a point by measurment twenty feet horizontally, and forty-five feet perpendicularly from his point of departure, and was so little hurt that he was soon able to walk about without assistance.

A man long supposed to be dead turned up in St. Paul the other day when he was not wanted. Several years ago he married and deserted his wife, who, after a lapse of time, married again, believing him to be dead. Her second husband died, and just as she was about to administer the estate he returns. She gets none of the property, and naturally is very much disgusted.

They have been having a legal discussion out at Chicago about the difference, under the laws and usages of New York, between taking private property for public use and taking public property for private use. One party contends it is only the difference between Tweed-ledum and Tweed-ledee; that is, that Tweed comes first in either case, with only a slight change in his following. But another party plausibly argues that one is confiscation, while the other is Jimfiscation.

A band of Kuklux who attempted to enter the jail in Danville, Ky., on Sunday night, that they might take out a negro prisoner and hang him, were fired upon by a number of negroes who had learned their intention and lay in ambush for them. After firing on both sides, in which several persons were wounded, the Kuklux fled. The negro, it is asserted, was imprisoned under a false indictment to get him out of the way, he being a damaging witness against certain parties in the Federal Court.

The number of vessels belonging to or bound to or from ports of the United States, reported totally lost and missing during the past month, is 38, of which 22 were wrecked, 5 abandoned, 2 burnt, 2 sunk by collision, 4 foundered, and 3 are missing. They are classed as follows, viz: 5 steamers, 3 ships, 7 barks, 6 brigs, 16 schooners and 1 sloop, and their total value, exclusive of cargoes, is estimated at $878,000. The value of the cargoes is probably nearly if not quite as much more. The aggregate loss by disasters which did not result in total loss of the vessel will constitute a formidable addition to the list.

Diptheria is prevailing to a certain extent among the children of wilmington.

Col. T. J. H. Anderson, Grand Master of Masons in the State of Texas, died in Houston on the 29th ult.

Two black boys, riding horse-back at full speed, in Nottaway County, Virginia, a few days ago, in opposite directions, were unable to manage their steeds, and the horses came together with such force that one was instantly killed and the other fatally injured. Neither of the boys was harmed.

One vote was lost by the Democrats in California thus: With considerable trouble the voter deciphered a poster announcing, that certain candidates would addres the inhabitants of Gilroy and vicinity, and after a moment's deep meditation exclaimed, "Vicinity! Whar's vicinity? I've lived hyar-about nigh onto fifteen years, an' thar ain't no such place; an' any party what don't know the gography of the country better nor that, can't get my vote."

On the authority of two persons of veracity, a correspondent of the Albany Journal tells this: "They saw a wasp riding on a green worm one and a half inches long. How far he had ridden they did not know; but after they saw him, they watched him until he had ridden all of twenty five feet. Occasionally the worm would stop, he motionless as though he was dead, when the wasp, after a little, would spur him up, and then the worm would go on. The wasp would keep the worm in as direct a course as he could. After a while the worm stopped, and the wasp dismounted and quickly ran and removed a little stone or piece of ground about two inches from where the worm lay, and then seizing the worm by the head drew it into the hole. Presently the wasp came out, put on the gravel top over the hole, covered the stone over, and seemed to be getting ready to fly, when they killed him, and then dug down about two inches and dug out the worm, who was dead."

You are commanded to summon Ambros H. Lindsey and Wm. White the defendants above named if they be found within your County, to appear before the Judge of the Superior Court for the county of Pasquotank, at the Court House in E. City, N. C. on the tenth Monday after the first Monday in October 1871, and answer the complaint, which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for Pasquotank County during first three days of said term and let them take notice, that if they fail to answer the said complaint during that term the plaintiff will take judgment against them for the sum of six hundred ($600) dollars, with interest thereon until paid.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, this 12th day of June 1871
W. E. VAUGHAN,
Clerk of the Superior Court
Pasquotank County.

The Defendant Ambros H. Lindsey has been served with process, and oath having been made in due form of law that the Defendant William White, is not a resident of this State and summons returned by the Sheriff of this county, that he is not to be found in said county. It is ordered by the court that publication be made according to law in the "North Carolinian" a newspaper published in E. City, for the defendant Wm. White to appear before the court according to the above summons.
W. E. VAUGHAN,
Clerk of the Superior Court
Aug. 22, 1871 9-6t. Pasquotank county.

NORTH CAROLINIAN.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1871.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisement in this issue.
New York Advertisements.
School Notice.
Selling out below Cost.
Minstrels.

Local and Personal.

Mayor Cobb has returned from Nag's Head.

Very pleasant—this September weather.

Dr. Krebs has parchased the interest of Dr. W. Grumbein in the Drug business.

C. W. Smith, of the Land and Lumber Company, is on a business visit to the Northern cities.

The new fence around the Baptist Church, Parsonage and Cemetery is nearly finished. It is a very neat and substantial improvement.

Our Devil says that his observation has satisfied him that while the little girls here about believe in "the man in the moon," the bigger ones believe in the honey moon.

We learn that the Democratic paper enterprise is not succeeding very well that it is doubtful whether the money can be raised. And it takes money to start and run a newspaper.

The Colored Odd Fellows celebrated the Second Anniversary of their Lodge at this place on Tuesday evening. They had a Parade, Address and Supper. Everything passed off in the best of order.

Our friend J. R. Dardin of Belvidere, will accept our acknowledgements for a box of very fine—the largest we have seen this season—Sweet potatoes. Such kind remembrances are always appreciated by the editor.

We have on our table a singular freak in the corn line, presented us by our friend Mr. Nathan Overman. It is a large ear of corn dividing about midway into three separate and perfect ears. It is a curiosity.

The other day, in order to test his scientific knowledge, we asked the Imp in our office "Whence come fleas?" He replied that he did not know, nor did he care a nickle, but he would like to know where in the thunder they go to when you "go for" them. He is always ready with an answer of some sort.

Reader, have you sent us a new subscriber? If not, why not? If each reader were to do this, which would require scarcely any effort, our circulation would be doubled and our sphere of usefulness greatly enlarged. Please think the matter over and act upon our suggestion.

During the past week there were quite a number of Government vessels in our waters, among which we noticed the United States side-wheel Steamer "Seward" from Washington, and the Steamer "Tulip" from Baltimore to Bodys Island, and the "Benjamin Meinder" and Barge from Baltimore to this place.

Some of our patrons and friends have complained at the delay in having their orders for Job work filled. We are happy to be able to announce to them and the public that we have made arrangements that will obviate all causes for complaint hereafter. Let the orders come in. They will receive prompt attention.

A correspondent writes to know whether certain members of the Legislature, and especially of the Senate, have resigned as they declared they would do if the Convention was defeated? We have not heard of any such resignation. Their threats were only intended for buncombe. They like office too well to resign.

A painful rumor reached this place last week that the Schooner "J. W. Hinton" had been capsized and lost at Hatteras, and that the Captain—Josiah Simmons and son of this place, went down with her. Since then letters have been received from the Captain announcing that both vessel and crew are safe, having reached New York, though the vessel was damaged.

Reader, when you are traveling out through the country, and anything happens to fall upon your ear or before your eyes that you think might be interesting to your neighbors to know about, just pull out your pencil and a piece of paper, and note down the particulars as closely as may be, and upon your return home hand them in at the North Carolinian office. You will always find us "at home" to such callers. There are hundred of such citizens, who daily visit the country districts, that might furnish us many items of common interest without discommodating themselves in the least, and at the same time would confer a favor upon their local paper and furnish the public with much valuable information. Will you bear this in mind?

Money is unusually scarce. There is none in the country. The entire failure of the wheat crop—and there never was so complete a failure known in this section before—and the very short oats crop have cut short the means that always bring money here at this season. Our farmers, and as a consequence our merchants and business men, very seriously feel the effects of these failures. The payment of bills are necessarily postponed and trade is dull, very dull compared with what all had expected. Fortunately the Cotton will soon be ready for market and the Corn crop never was better. These are the staples of this country—and they will be until the improved Agriculture for which it is so admirably adapted is introduced more generally. When these begin to go to market money will get easier and business resume its normal condition.

Our city is remarkably dull at present. Nothing of importance is transpiring within its limits and consequently news items are scarce.

Our Northern exchanges are filled with accounts of much sickness. The Summer here has been comparatively healthy. Excepting a few mild cases of billious fever—none of them serious—we have it about as healthy as any country we ever lived in.

One great advantage of this country over the North, East or West is that off the same ground you can raise at least two crops in a season. First a crop of peas, irish potatoes, early corn, cabbage, etc., after which may be planted the same for Fall crops. All that is needed is a proper cultivation of the soil.

We hear complaints that on every Sabbath evening our Baptist friends are very much annoyed and their service disturbed by a few boys—would be young gentlemen—singing, talking loudly and making noises in front of the Church. If the offenders have no respect for themselves they should be taught to respect others.

We are indebted to Jordan Stone, Esq., Editor of the Weldon News, and Secretary of the Roanoke and Tar River Agricultural Society for a copy of the Premium List of its Second Fair, together with the rules and regulations of the same. The Fair will be held at the Fair Grounds, near Weldon, on the 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th days of November. On Thursday, the 9th, the Annual Address will be deliverd by Hon. Z. B. Vance.

LOCAL PORT-FOLIO

The best thing in slippers—a ladies pretty foot. The graded school of vice—moderate drinking, hard drinking, intemperance, degredation, crime and death. Blue fishing—getting nary a bite. The foot guards—boots and shoes. Man proposes, but—woman accepts. How to get along—walk. A country seat—a milking stool. Rich music—a millionair. Joint education—gymnastics. Difficult to remember—the poor. Agreeable dust to the eyes—gold dust. Young ladies are partial to sunset and twilight because—they are daughters of Eve. A Seamstress' exclamation—a-hem. Common suers—lawyers. The ship that everybody likes—good fellowship. Next to nothing—1 in 10. Made a flying visit on Monday—A. E. Jacobs. Beginning to return—the people from Nag's Head.

Business Locals.

Remember that after the 1st of October Two Dollars and Fifty Cents will be charged on all subscriptions not paid before that date. We again make this announcement that all may have due notice and have no cause for complaint, as the terms will be inflexibly adhered to.

Notice to Subscribers.—In making remittances for subscriptions or advertising, always when practicable, send drafts or checks or postoffice orders. When these cannot be procured, send the money, but always in a registered letter. We wish it distinctly understood that we will not be responsible for money lost in its transmission to us by mail, unless it is in a duly registered letter.

SPECIAL.

Those of our Subscribers knowing themselves to be in arrears are requested at once to make their remittance. We cannot afford to furnish the public with reading matter free of charge.

Still at the old Stand 35 Market Square, Norfolk, Va., our popular friend A. E. Jacobs. Always call and see him when you go there. Dry Goods, Clothing, Notions etc., in variety and price to suit all.

Mr. J. W. Turner is absent North buying goods to replenish the Drug Emporium of Dr. D. T. Krebs & Co. Those in want of Drugs, Medicines etc., would do well to call and see them. Their place of business is at the South East corner of Main and Road streets, in the large store formerly occupied by Dr. Grumbein & Co. Advertisement next week.

I. A. Cohn is selling out all his goods below cost. See his advertisement.

The editor of the North Carolinian will accept our thanks for the fine specemen of choice Tomatoes left at our store a few days ago from his vegetable garden. They were not only pleasing to the eye but equally so to the stomach.

Dr. D. T. K. & Co.

The "show" is coming. See advertisement. It is highly spoken of by the Norfolk papers. It performs here to day, in Hertford to-morrow and in Edenton on Saturday. Look out for amusement and fun. For partienlars see posters.

Mail Routes.—The Post Master General, because of the failure of several bidders, has been obliged to readvertise the following routes.

From Plymouth, by Edenton, Colerain Landing, Harrellsville, Gate's Ferry, Winton, Crossville, Riddicksville, and South Quay, (Va.) to Franklin Depot, (Va.) 106 miles and back by steamboat, three times a week.

Leave Plymouth Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 8 p m;

Arrive at Franklin Depot Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday by 8 am;

Leave Franklin Depot Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 8 a m, or after arrival of mail from Norfolk;

Arrive at Plymouth same days by 6 p m.

Enos J Pennypacker of Wilmington failing bidder.

From Elizabeth City by Camden, Shiloah, and Indian Ridge, to Currituck C. H. 27 miles and back, once a week.

Leave Elizabeth City Friday at 8 a m;

Arrive at Currituck C. H., by 5 p m;

Leave Currituck C. H., Saturday at 11 a. m;

Arrive at Elizabeth City by 8 p. m.

James A. Scott, of Deep Creek, Va., failing contractor.

A lady of high social position in Louisville, Ky., was missed from her husband's residence on Saturday, and was not heard of until Tuesday, when she was found in a negro's hut, greatly under the influence of liquor. It was with difficulty that she was persuaded to return home.

A Mr. Hudson of Troy, N. Y., had recently a narrow escape from being crushed by a heavy box which slipped from the tackle that was raising it. The Whig explains thus: "Hearing the warning of the workmen, he started back and threw up his skull in which he was carrying a tin vessel. This probably saved his life." But several readers of The Whig have endangered their own skulls in endeavorinfi to comprehend the explanation.

One of the largest planters of the South is Col. G. B. Lockett of Georgia. He has planted this year 6,500 acres of cotton and 3,500 acres of corn and small grains. At the lowest estimate, his cotton crop will sell for $180,000. Col. Lockett employs 360 hands, all black, and has no trouble with his help, who are orderly and tolerably industrious. Throwing out the value of increase of slaves, he thinks that cotton can now be raised more cheaply than before the war.

DEATHS.

HINTON.—At Newland on Friday evening last Geo. W. Hinton, aged about 50 years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

EXUBERANT HEALTH is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life, and exemptions from dissease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world need an occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, unexciting tonic is the grand desideration of the busy millions, and they have the article in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a staminal medicine, i. e. it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced ad libitum, and, as far as the public is concerned ad nauseum, in the hope of rivaling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left far in the rear. It has been the great medical success of the present century, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known, or as generally used.

Ten lightning presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted,) the whole year thpough, barely supply the demand for the Illustrated Almanac, in which the nature and uses of the preyaration are set forth. the circulation now being over eight milllions o year.

Dr. Wells having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the South American Plant, called sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even exceed the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public, and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular monthly supply of this wonderful Plant. He has spent much time experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as

and he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a Blood Purifier in all derangements of the system and to animate and fortify all weak and Lymphatic temperaments.

ψυχη PSYCHOMANCY Is derived from the Greek signifying the power of the soul, spirit or mind, and is the basis of all human knowledge. Psychomancy is the title of a new work of 400 pages, by Herbert Hamilton, B. A., giving full instructions in the science of Soul Charming and Psychologic Fascination; how to exert this wonderful power over men or animals at will. It teaches Mesmerism, how to become Trance or Writing Mediums, Divination, Spiritualism, Alchemy, Philosophy of Omons & Dreams, Brigham Young's Harem, Guide to Marriage, &c. This is the only book in the English language professing to teach this occult power, and is of immense advantage to Merchants, Lawyers, Physicians, and especially to Lovers, in securing the affections of the opposite sex, and all seeking riches or happiness. Price by mail, in cloth $1,25; paper covers, $1, for sale by J. B. Lpincott & Co., and Claxen, Remsen & Co, Philadelphia. Agents wanted for this book, Medical Works. Perfumery, Jewelry, &c. AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Clover and Grass Land.

If more of our farm land were kept in clover and grass than is usually the case, and a greater quantity of stock than is usually the case, we should not only hear less frequently of the exhaustion of the soil, but should feel tolerably certain that with ordinarily good farming it was in a way of yielding large crops of cereals annually on a smaller extent of land. It is the manure that is made upon a farm that constitutes the primary source of profit to the farmer. It is the rapid exhaustion of farms and plantations by hoed crops, corn, tobacco, etc.—not only in consequence of the immense amount of phosphates which they extract from the soil, but also by reason of the exposure of the soil itself in its light condition to washing rains and too ardent summer heat—which has thrown out of cultivation in this and other of the older States so many fields that were once fertile but are now filled with a sedge grass and rugged and unsightly gullies and ravines. Soils in our climate need to be kept covered in clover and grass to as great an extent as is consistent with good husbandry. They improve under the shade of clover because this dense covering prevents evaporation and because also the long tap roots of this fine forage plant penetrate deep down in to the subsoil where they rot and furnish aliment for succeeding crops. A good crop of clover turned is equivalent more over to a good dressing of barn yard, for it contains all the constituents in which the cereals delight. Grass lands for similar reasons when not too closely cropped improve the soil, inasmuch they not only prevent evaporation and add vegetable matter to the under soil by the decay of their under leaves, but they also leave many tons of vegetable matter to the under soil by their close net work of fine fibrous roots when the land is again brought under the plow.

In renting out farms in England, so well is this understood that stipulations are entered between the landlord and his tenants with regard to the number of acres that shall be kept constantly in grass, and the quantity of stock of various kinds that shall be maintained on the farm. Nor is this stock, in itself, unprofitable apart from the additional amount of manure which is thus furnished. The dairy and the fattening annually of a greater or less number of heads or beef cattle, is more remunerative, provided market be not too far distant, than hay sold off the farm, while the increased yield of the cereals—wheat, oats, barley and rye—amply compensate for the smaller amount of land that is brought under the plow. By pursuing this system, lands which were originally only of ordinary fertility have been made to produce remarkably heavy crops, and what we call "exhausting the soil," is a term which with them is only known theoretically.—Maryland Farmer.

Sheep on a Poor Farm.

Some farmers of our acquaintance feel an antipathy to sheep for the reason that they "bite close." We consider this their chief recommendation; they can only bite close when the pasture is short, and the pasture is short only on a poor farm. A poor farm will necessarily be encumbered with briars, weeds, and brush in the fence corners. Under such conditions, we would say to a farmer who has twenty dollars or upwards in cash, or credit for it, and then let him borrow the amount if he has to pay one per cent. a month for the use of it; invest it in as many ewes, not older than three years, as you can get for that money. Put them this summer in such a field as we have described and give them, in addition to what they can pick up, a pint of wheat bran and oatmeal daily, with free access to water and salt.

They will first go for the briars and clean them out; every portion of that field will be trodden over and over again, and the weeds will have no chance. Fold them on that field during winter, and carry go them feed sufficient to keep them thriving. Get the use of a good buck in season—Southdown would be preferable—and in the spring, if you have luck (that means if you give them proper attention and feed regularly) you will raise more lambs than you have ewes. The money will be more than doubled, and the wool and manure will pay for their feed and interest. In the spring you may put that field in corn with the certainty of getting fifty per cent. increase of crop.—American Agriculturist.

Governor Senter, of Tennessee, has invited the Governors of all the States and Territories to assist in securing a full representation in the National Agricultural Congress in Nashville on the 3d of October.

CLEANING BLANKETS.—Put two large tablespoonfuls of borax and a pint of soap into a tub of cold water. When dissolved put in a pair of blankets, and let them remain over night. Next day rub and drain them out, and rinse thoroughly in two waters, and hang them out to dry. Do not wring them.

COMMON HARD SOAP.—Put in an iron kettle about five pounds unslacked lime, five pounds soda, and three gallons of soft water; let it soak over night; in the morning pour off the water, then add three and a half lbs. of grease, boil till thick, turn into a pan until cool, and then cut in bars.

TO MAKE CLOTH WATER-PROOF.—In a pail of soft water put half a pound of alum; stir this at intervals until it becomes cool; then pour it into another pail and put the garment therein, and let it be in for twenty four hours, and then hang it up to dry without wringing it.

TO CLEAN FEATHERS.—Dissolve four ounces of white soap, cut small, in four pounds of water, moderately hot, in a basin, and make the solution into a lather, by beating with a small rod. Then introduce the feathers, and rub them well with the hands for five minutes.—They are next to be washed in clean water as hot as the hand can bear it.

CHICKEN CHOLERA.—Alum is recommended for chicken cholera. A writer says: When I notice the hens begin to droop and look sleepy I give them three or four teaspoonfuls of strong alum water, and repeat the next day. I also mix the food (say corn meal) with strong alum water, feeding twice a day for two or three days; afterwards once a wek. Since I have practiced the above I have not lost any.

TO COLOR BLACK.—For one pound of goods, take one ounce of logwood extract and about one table-spoonful of copperas; dissolve the copperas in about one and a half gallons of soft water, boiling hot; it up, put in the goods, and let it simmer for fifteen or twenty minutes then, ring out and wash in a good hot suds. Dissolve your logwood in about the same quantity of clean, boiling water, put in your goods, stirring it often to prevent spotting; let them boil slowly for half an hour, or until they are as black as you desire; take out and hang up, and let them dry. Wash in a good suds, and rinse in clear water.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 15 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,00 cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, popler, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splendid order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamer and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rock-fish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

In order the better to meet the wants of their Retail Customers at a distance, have established a and will, upon application, promptly send by mail full lines of Samples of the Newest and most Fashionable Goods, of FRENCH, ENGLISH and DOMESTIC MANUFACTURE, guaranteeing at all times to sell as low, if not at less prices, than any house in the country.

Buying our goods from the largest and most celebrated manufacturers in the different parts of Europe, and importing the same by Steamers direct to Baltimore, our stock is at all times promptly supplied with the novelties of the London and Paris Markets.

As we buy and sell only for cash, and make no bad debts, we are able and willing to sell our goods at FROM TEN TO FIFTEEN PER CENT, LESS PROFIT than if we gave credit.

In sending for samples specify the kind of goods desired. We keep the best grades of every class of goods, from the lowest to the most costly.

Orders unaccompanied by the cash, will be sent C. O. D.

PROMPT PAYING WHOLESALE BUYERS are invited to inspect the Stock in our Jobbing and Packing Department. Address

BONE DUST.—

The subscriber has just erected at his Farm, near the city, the most improved machinery for making BONE DUST, and is now ready to fill orders for any quantity, which will be delivered at the shortest notice.

The BONE DUST will be finer than any heretofore made by him, (no chemical process resorted to,) enabling the Farmer or Planter to sow it with a Drill.

Mr. Samuel Sands, well known to the Farmers and Planters of the United States as the former Editor of the "American Farmer and Rural Register," will have charge of his office, NO. 63 S. GAY STREET, near Pratt, and will be happy to receive the visits or orders of his old friends.

$45 per ton, put in new bags. No charge for bags.

Farmers and others are invited to visit my works. I have nothing to conceal.

My men have nothing nice to perform, therefore I have no "non-admittance" signs on my premises. Persons are free to examine my factory, and the modus operandi of Dust making.

I cannot afford to pay 5, 10 or 20 per cent. to commission merchants, as my profits do not exceed 10 per cent.

Bone Dust, as manufacured by me, is A simple, and its quality cannot be made to conform to the price.

THOMAS PARR

CABINET MAKER AND UNDERTAKER,

most respectfully informs his customers, friends and the public generally, that he has removed to E. City, N. C. and comenced his old business as Cabinet maker and Undertaker.

He is now prepaired to furnish Metalic and wood coffins of the latest improved kind and best quality, as cheap as they can be purchased in this market.

His Hearse, will be ready at all times to serve his customers at any distance within thirty miles, upon the same terms and same prices as within this immediate vicinity.

He is prepared to repair furniture of every kind and quality, and furnish new furniture on as reasonable terms as any one in this section.

It will be to the interest of those who may desire any article in his line of business to give him a call at his ware-room on Road Street near C. B. Brother's Livery Stables.

CHILLS AND FEVER

AND DUMB AGUE.

The only known Specific for the above diseases, is Henry Bellerjeau's powders.

Hundreds of cases have been treated in Elizabeth City, thousands elsewhere, and all entirely relieved. Quit the quinine it will destroy you, and give my remedy one fair trial. If it does not cure, it costs you nothing.

MY MOTTO IS, NO CURE NO PAY.

It has been tested by hundreds of customers of the Land and Lumber Company's Store and not a single failure has been reported to me.

One package of my powders will cure any case of Chills and Fever.

One package taken, will prevent an attack of Billious Fever.

One powder will quickly relieve headache.

LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY'S COLUMN.

LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY

OF

NORTHCAROLINA.

Incorporated by the Legislature of North Carolina, December 17, 1868.

CAPITAL STOCK - - - - $300,000,00.

General Office: Elizabeth City, N. C.

OFFICERS

J. M. WEED, President. C. H. ROBINSON, Secretary. C. W. SMITH, Treasurer.

DIRECTORS

J. M. WEED, WM. UNDERWOOD, CHARLES W. SMITH, N. R. ZIMMERMAN AND G. B. THOMPSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY, having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Propertes in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front. permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a whole-sale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street36 by 60 , two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished. modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft. and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20.000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170. 172. 175, 178, 180, 182. 185, 187. 190' 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. Size of lots 100 feet front by 200 feet deep. Price varying, according to location, from $100 to $1000.

TOWN LOTS.

Lots Nos. 250, 253, 255, 256, 258, 261, 263, 266, 267, 268, 271, 283, 285. 287, 288, 289, 291, 296, 299 and 300, situated on various Streets in the new extension of Elizabeth City, size of lots 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, at prices varying from $25 to $100.

MILL LOTS.

Four Mill-Lots situated on Knobb's Creek, so that logs can be taken from the creek to the mill. These lots have 200 feet each of water front. and over 600 feet deep to Mill street, and are choice sites. The purchaser will also have the right of storage for logs in the boom.

PASQUOTANK COUNTY.

The Land and Lumber Company also offer for sale, one thousand acres of their timbered land along the Main Road leading from Elizabeth City to Hertford and Edenton, Said land heavily wooded, soil very rich and about four miles from Elizabeth City. This land will be sold in lots to suit purchases and at the low price of ten dollars per acre.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 250 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildinos wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultiuated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water transportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles from Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

☞ The most direct and cheapest route is to go to Baltimore by N. C. R. R., then Bay Line steamer to Norfolk, Va., then steamer to Elizabeth City, N. C.

HEALTH! BEAUTY!!

Strong and Pure Rich Blood—Increase of Flesh and Weight—Clear Skin and Beautiful Complexion secured to all.

DR. RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT

Has made the most astonishing cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes, under the influence of this truly wonderful medicine, that

EVERY DAY AN INCREASE IN FLESH AND WEIGHT IS SEEN AND FELT.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphili, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Theum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges. Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastess, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs, will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excels all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for KIDNEY & BLADDER COMPLAINTS, Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinuence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all casee where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust, deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

DR. RADWAY'S PERFECT PURGATIVE PILLS,

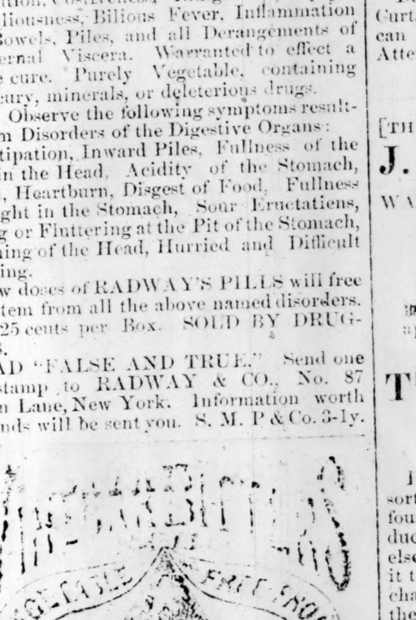

perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated with sweet gum, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse, and strengthen. Radway's Pills, for the cure of all disorders of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Headache, Constitution, Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Bilious Fever, Inflammation of the Bowels, Piles, and all Derangements of the Internal Viscera. Warranted to effect a positive cure. Purely Vegetable, containing no mercury, minerals, or deleterious drugs.

☞ Observe the following symptoms resulting from Disorders of the Digestive Organs:

Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness of the Blood in the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgest of Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructatiens, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing.

A few doses of RADWAY'S PILLS will free the system from all the above named disorders. Price, 25 cents per Box. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

READ "FALSE AND TRUE." Send one letter-stamp to RADWAY & CO., No. 87 Maiden Lane, New York. Information worth thousands will be sent you. S. M. P & Co. 3-1y.

J. WALKER, Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & CO., Druggists and Gen'l Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 & 34 Commerce St., N. Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Billous, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the off springs of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.
